STEADY BODY & HEAD

What points will aid in obtaining accuracy in the short game?

Answered by BOB CRUICKSHANK

The man who, in 1921, defeated Hutchinson, Baranese and Barnes in an invitation tournament at St. Joseph, Mo. Runner up in Pittsburgh tournament for professional golfers, 1922, being defeated only by Baranese.

A firm stance, steady body, steady head and elbows held well into the body, will always aid greatly in the short game. A player should make up his mind as to the distance of the shot and decide definitely which club is best to use. If it is a mashie-iron, mashie-niblick, or mashie shot to the green, he should select a point on, or near, the green to play for. If it is a chip shot over a bunker or a stream, he should forget about them and see only the green and pin. If it is a little chip shot, just off the edge of the green, he should pick out a spot on the green to pitch to and allow a little run to cover part of the distance. Judgment of distance in all these shots plays an important part.

EYE HAZARDS IN FACTORIES

Two Hundred Thousand Accidents to Eyes of Workmen Occur Each Year in Industries.

New York.—Two hundred thousand accidents to the eyes of workmen occur in industry each year, and approximately 16 per cent of the total blind population of the country, or 15,000, represent the industrial blind. These are two of the facts developed in an investigation of the eye hazards of industrial occupations which was conducted last year by the national committee for the prevention of blindness. The study covered every state in the Union and every industrial occupation in which there is an accident hazard.

ready has been accomplished toward alleviation of the eye accident problem in industry, but all this is merely a beginning.

Many Hazards Existing.
"There are still countless plants whose operations present serious eye hazards, in which no goggles or other protective equipment are available. There are many plants where workmen still keep goggles in their pockets except when they are watched. There are still plants in which toothpicks, matches, handkerchiefs, pocket knives, and even the tongues of workmen, are the instruments employed to remove clinders and other particles from the eyes of fellow workers."

Industrial accidents, the report says, are responsible for an injury to a human eye every two and one-half minutes, day and night, 365 days a year.

"The solution of this problem," the report says, "depends upon three forces: Legislation, education and actual accident prevention service to industry."

Suggestions Are Made.

It makes the following general statements:
1. The elimination of eye hazards in industry is not only a moral obligation, but a good business proposition.
2. Goggles at best are a handicap; the first effort, therefore, should be directed toward the elimination of the hazard itself by changing the processes of manufacture, by redesigning machines and tools, or by guarding machines and tools at the source of accidents, usually the point of operation.
3. Few people have perfect vision to start with; greater attention should, therefore, be given to the examination of the eyes of employees, to the correction of defective vision of industrial workers and to a consideration of the condition of the eyes of the individual worker with relation to the visual requirements of the work that he is to do.

DOG FOSTER MOTHER TO LION

Canine Sustains Cub in Berlin Zoo.

Berlin's zoo is probably more successful than any other in the world as a breeding place for wild animals. Strange foster families are developed by the keepers, who have learned the difficulties of competing certain mothers to look after their young under the unnatural conditions they face in captivity.

A few months ago a lion cub was entrusted to a small black female dog. The young lion is now five times as large as his foster mother and is developing a heavy mane. Still he is as docile as a puppy and he and the little dog remain on the best of terms and play about together.

Hawaiian Fig Grove Is Sown by Army Aviators

Washington.—Sowing seeds in the latest cooperative venture of the army air service with the Agricultural department. The forestry service of the territory of Hawaii, with the object in view of the water preservation of various areas now barren, was the sowing of Hawaiian bay fig tree seeds over a number of almost inaccessible areas in Hawaii. Such an undertaking performed in the ordinary way would have involved months of tedious work and such huge expense as to have rendered same impractical without a special appropriation.

Upon the approval of Maj. Gen. Charles P. Summerall, commanding the Hawaiian department, four army air service pilots and two airplanes were assigned to perform the work. According to a report later received by the chief of the air service this task was finished in three hours.

The Hawaiian bay fig tree when matured is of huge dimensions. The trunk has been known to reach a diameter of 12 feet and the spread of the tree to shade an area of 2,000 square feet. The particular tree, from which the seeds were taken, bore 10,000 pounds of fruit last year. The fruit is edible.

Britain Builds Two
Superpowered Planes

London.—Great Britain is building a superplane of 600 horsepower, which will attempt to break the world's speed record this summer.

It will be capable of a speed of 250 miles an hour, and will take part in the series derby and the race around Britain for the king's cup. Later it will go to France and contend for the Gordon Bennett cup. It will be christened "Hans XIV."

At the same time British designers are completing one of the largest flying boats in the world. It is driven with four engines of a combined horsepower of 2,000. The new flying boat has a hull of triple thickness, and is capable of cruising at a surface craft for long distances.

Grand Thirty-Six Years to Date Jan.

London.—Robert Joseph, who looks but some years of a century of life, retired from the service of a firm of brokers at Burton-on-Trent very recently. For thirty-six years his employment had been trying to induce him to retire, but always he refused, saying nothing but work would satisfy him. Now that he is willing to rest, his employers have given him a fine pension.

DISPLAY OF BAMES SHOWS
FRANCE'S BIRTH SHORTAGE

Window Exhibit in Paris Tells Story of Decreasing Race.

Paris.—A row of three babies, of diminishing sizes, clothed in white and resting on a black background, has been attracting attention in the windows of the National Alliance for the Increase of French Population.

It is a show window way of telling the story of a decreasing race. The largest baby has written underneath, "Year 1880—1,804,000"; the second baby, "Year 1912—740,000"; and the last baby, "Year 1920—500,000."

The trouble between France and Germany is one of babies, according to the spokesman of this organization, and Germany is bound to win the next war because of more babies.

According to the latest figures, Germany now has 500,000 extra new babies, and France but 35,000 above her death rate.

France's present population is placed at 39,200,000, whereas 1,500,000 are foreigners. Her native population for the first six months of 1922 increased by 9,045, compared to 15,540 in 1913, a normal prewar year.

With the number of marriages increasing (192,622 for the first six months of 1922, as compared to 107,722 in the corresponding period of 1913), the birth rate is slightly lower, as is the death rate.

The national alliance, however, points out that there is a 3 per cent decrease in the German birth rate due to postwar poverty and other causes. France is endeavoring by legislation to increase the birth rate. Fathers of four or more children are given higher salaries, and other measures are being adopted, one of which is to give a father an extra vote for every child.

TRANSJORDANIA
There is a new Arab state lately organized and with fully recognized independence, which bears the name of Transjordan, which is the word in English, in Arabic the Jordan. Moreover, it is the old and new closer, its capital was formerly known as Philadelphia, this from Ptolemy's name for the former Roman ruler; but its present name is Amman. But whatever its former name of Philadelphia implied, it has never been a city or country of brotherly love. From earliest days nomadic Arabs have peopled it. If population these nomadic people who wander over its territories can be called, as for a court, there is no state path or in which the Emir Abdullah holds sway. Instead he holds his court and administers justice in a group of tents which he moves according to the necessities of the seasons.

Perhaps there is something of suggested usefulness in the movable court of Transjordan. Nobody settles down in a state palace, nobody sits the Emir himself in established official position. The court is wherever the Emir pitches his tent, and his residence is completed of the wandering Arabs of the desert. There could possibly be some things that a residence in Amman, which by the way is 10 miles from the Jordan river and as the crow flies only about 100 miles from Jerusalem, with the Jerusalem-Medina railway running through the nearby desert towns.

PROGRESSIVE SCHOLARSHIP
It is the opinion of Dr. Capen, director of the University of Buffalo, as outlined by him in a recent speech, that the "summa cum laude" degree of scholarship is a great achievement, which should be given to a student who has shown a high degree of scholarship in his studies. The summa cum laude degree is a great achievement, which should be given to a student who has shown a high degree of scholarship in his studies. A MINING INDUSTRY
The growth of population, industry and wealth in the United States has frequently been exploited, but the real phenomenon is perhaps the growth of government. It is a leading American industry, a contemporary conclusion. Millions of citizens live on it, deriving support from the organization formed to collect and spend the public revenue and in many instances contributing little to the national wealth. It is the contention of Senator Smoot that if Congress sets up a new government bureau and appropriates $15,000 for three officials, it will shortly grow to twenty times that sum and require a million dollars.

THE CODE POST—BY HENRY VAN DYKE
The Father of Lies
And the serpent said unto the woman, Thou shalt not surely die.—Gen. 3:4.
The attempt to deny or ignore evil has been the stock in trade of every false doctrine that has befogged and bewildered the world since the days of Eden.
The fairy tale that the old serpent told to Eve is a poetic symbol of the fundamental—the theory that she does not know death, because it is no real existence and makes no real difference.
"But is nothing," say these teachers. "It is not real. It is an illusion, a deception. Shut your eyes and it will vanish."
Yes, but open your eyes again and you will see it in the same place, in the same form, doing the same work. It is still present, still real, still a most powerful influence.
The serpent said to the good woman, "Thou shalt not surely die." The serpent said to the good woman, "Thou shalt not surely die." The serpent said to the good woman, "Thou shalt not surely die."

NORMAL SUMMER SCHOOL
ANNUAL SESSION FOR TEACHERS OF ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS
WILL START JULY 2
Attendance Professional and Non-Professional—Excluded—Change in Registration Requirements—Faculty Subsequently the Name of the Normal School—The Week Course Will End August 10.

The annual summer session for teachers of elementary schools will be held at the Onondaga State Normal and Training school commencing July 2 and ending August 10. This session is always well attended, last year's registration being almost one thousand. The attendance this year of, of course, non-professional, as well as professional, is expected to be even better. It is expected that several hundred will take the work. Beginning this year attendance at but one summer session is required for the academic certificate and the certificate will be issued for one year with no privilege of renewal. In former years two sessions were required and the certificate could be renewed. Now this new ruling will affect this year's attendance is uncertain.

The purpose of the summer school is to afford professional training for teachers who, because of their employment, are unable to attend school during the regular school year. The course of study are the same as the regular course of the school and will be so arranged that those who complete the work of the summer session may receive credit for one-half of a term of one-fourth of a year of the regular work of the school in the subjects which they take. The work of the session will be accepted toward the completion of a Normal school course but it will not be open to teachers of no experience excepting those who wish to take courses leading to the academic certificate that they may teach in rural schools during the school year of 1933-34.

In regard to academic certificates, which are licenses to teach in rural schools for one year, the department of education has announced that "holders" of the Regents' academic diploma and also those who have graduated from an approved high school course of four years shall be entitled to the academic certificate after having successfully completed a summer course of six weeks of study for the training of rural school teachers in a Normal school in this state.

There will be no charge for tuition at the summer school and the use of text books and library books will be free. A model school of several years of the elementary course will be maintained. The opportunities of this school will be opened to members of the session as a school of observation. There will be no practice during the summer session.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS
Local and National
A special meeting of the auxiliary to the Onondaga post, American legion, will be held at 8 o'clock Friday evening at the Community house. This meeting will be partly for practice work and also to elect three officers not chosen at last Tuesday's meeting. All members who have not secured their membership cards are requested to be present and pay the balance of their dues.

Securing a captured German war trophy for Huntington park, Onondaga, which was discussed at the last legion meeting and which a Chamber of Commerce committee has been endeavoring to do the past several years, will not be possible until congress meets again. The last session of congress failed to enact a bill sponsored by the American legion which would have appropriated $250,000 for distributing these trophies to the 46 states. There are 3,000,000 rifles, machine guns, and other fighting equipment of the enemy in Washington, for which the war department is paying storage and maintenance but is unable to pay for their distribution. The legion will introduce the bill for the appropriation at the next session of congress, which is scheduled in 1935 to distribute all trophies through the state governments, but has not yet gotten around to it.

A conference in Washington today between the legion, the National Guard association, the Disabled Emergency Officers' association, and other military and veteran organizations, will consider legislation for obtaining the same relief for disability in line of duty for future emergency army officers as now obtains for officers of the regular army.

Elmhurst, Long Island, post of the legion has petitioned President Harding to have the Shipping board invite gold star mothers on the trial trip of the Leviathan instead of holding it as a "junket" for senators, congressmen and politicians.

Legionnaires in Southern Kansas found themselves back in the trenches during the recent floods in that section. Post commanders mobilized legion men for duty in aiding flood victims, strengthening dikes and dams and patrolling the water-swept areas.

Concentration of disabled soldiers taking vocational training in abandoned army camps for instruction, such as the school at Chillicothe, Ohio, is being opposed by the legion, who favor the placement policy in educational institutions not operated by the government on the grounds that the social contact in latter institutions would be better for veterans and the cost would be less.

Only 26 senators are opposed to the adjusted compensation bill, the legion's national legislative committee reported at a recent meeting of the Poultry Meeting at Hartwick.

Officers of the New York Poultry Certification association, including M. C. Porter, secretary and manager, will meet at Hartwick on June 25, at 2 p. m. to discuss the proposition of establishing a trap nesting association there. If sufficient interest is taken and enough funds can be raised it is probable that the project will be acted upon favorably. Prof. James Rice of the state agricultural college at Cornell university will be present and address the meeting. The members of the poultry council and all other poultrymen who are interested are invited to attend.

CONVICTS TRY COUE CHANT AS SHORT CUT TO FREEDOM

(By NEA Service.)
Auburn, May 24.—Convicts in Auburn prison are chanting themselves. It is the newest pastime of the cells. A woman serving a sentence for murder started the Coue method of healing herself of a long illness by conscious auto-suggestion. And immediately some hard-boiled prisoners seized upon the idea—hoping that its reputed magic might dissolve the bars.
"Poor fellows, they have the wrong idea," says Mrs. Mary Murphy, chief disciplinor of Coue in Auburn prison. "Somebody heard me say I thought Coueism would show me a 'way out'—and they thought I meant a way out of jail."
"I had been sick for a long time. At my trial I collapsed several times, and by illness continued in prison. But I've been working hard to apply Coue's principles and I feel I have had a lot of benefit."
Meanwhile the cell block over in the men's section vibrates with a mighty whisper:
"Every day in every way I'm getting closer and closer."
"To what?" asks a doubting prisoner.
"To freedom, you poor boob!" says the optimist, blithely ignorant of a twisted idea of Coue's health doctrine.

COMMENCEMENT

At the graduation exercises at the Oneonta High School, the following were the graduates: ...

2. G. Hoyt announced at the meeting of the board of Public Works that evening that he had given up his resignation from the board with hope of being able to take effect on July 1. Mr. Hoyt will become an assistant of the city engineer that date, when the mayor would call him into office, and then that he would be in the city at the same time as an official and an employee of the city. The resignation will probably be presented to the common council this evening.

Mr. Hoyt has been a member of the board for several years, two years this time and for a five year period previously. He has given freely of his energy and time to the city and has aided materially in the accomplishment of many important work. As chairman of the board during part of the tenure in office he has enjoyed the fullest confidence and respect of his co-workers, who cooperated with him in the fullest in every particular.

Each member of the board expressed himself last evening as regretting the resignation of Mr. Hoyt and spoke in very complimentary terms of his work in behalf of the city. A resolution was passed endorsing the resignation of the board in that regard.

But little of importance came before the board at the meeting. City Engineer Gurney announced that plans and specifications for the work on Silver creek had been prepared and that a contract would shortly be submitted to the Delaware & Hudson company for its approval. The city, the D. & H. company and the Elmore Milling company will pay each a third of the cost of the improvements, designed to check the flood hazard.

Mr. Gurney also announced that the paving construction is proceeding in a most satisfactory manner. The sewer work on Center street will be finished this year. The car tracks are up on Church and Center streets and work has been started on Maple street. Part of the curbing has been laid on Church street.

In the informal discussion which followed, the matter of the Main street paving was brought up and gone over at some length. Mr. Gurney said that the McDonald Construction company was making such satisfactory progress that it would be ready to work on Main street at a much earlier time than most people realized. He pointed out the fact that nothing would be done on Main street this year. The matter of the petition of the trolley company to remove its tracks from Broad street to Main street was brought up and it was the opinion of all that the Main street construction must be done this year no matter how much the trolley company may oppose.

CONFERENCE YEAR BOOK.

Over 200 Pages Needed for Wyoming Conference Year Book for 1930.
The Star is under obligations to Rev. George H. Prentice of Dalton, Pa., secretary for many years of the Wyoming Methodist Episcopal conference, for a copy of the year book for 1930 which has just been turned and doubtless is now in the hands of all pastors of the four districts. The book contains 220 pages, and is well printed; but of much more consequence than mere typographical appearance is the fact that it has been carefully and accurately compiled and contains in convenient and available form practically all the information which the ordinary church man has need for.

The book was edited by Mr. Prentice, who by the way was a Hartford boy, and is a credit alike to him and to the conference whose varied activities are set forth so carefully in detail. Every member who desires to keep in touch with church matters should secure a copy.

THE ONE HOUR DRESS.

Display at Oneonta Department Store.
Hundreds of interested women crowded the sidewalks in front of the Oneonta Department store yesterday to see the display of the sensational "One Hour Dress." Many more congested the store inside to examine the garment more closely, and to learn by what magic it is possible to make a dress in sixty minutes without sacrificing beauty, style, or distinction.

The Department store is staging the Fashion Service Week as part of the nation-wide movement sponsored by the Woman's Institute of Domestic Arts and Sciences of Scranton and for the balance of the week a demonstration will make one of the dresses between 2 and 3 o'clock in the window of the store.

ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT

Normal students do they do well in the exercises presented each year at Commencement time. For many years these exercises have been a very attractive part of the activities of the week and no small amount of talent, both vocal and dramatic, has been in evidence. Standing room only has always been the rule and tonight but a few seats were left.

This year "Pepita," an opera recently written, will be presented. The production has a Mexican flavor and is musical and colorful to a high degree. Elaborate preparations have been made for the staging of the production. Costumes correct in every detail have been ordered and special scenery has been prepared. Many hours of rehearsal have been the lot of the principals and the chorus and the word comes from the "Bill" that all is ready for one of the best presentations in the history of the school.

Why you need Auto Insurance
As long as the roads are crowded with drivers who persist in cutting in regardless of ordinary considerations of safety, just so long will the careful driver need complete automobile insurance. Eventually, "the man who is always in a hurry to get there" will find that such driving does not pay, but the lesson is weak; a costly one to others.

WELL-KNOWN BUSINESS MAN

William A. Polley Dies Early Monday Morning at Home in Oneonta—Funeral Wednesday at Lake Home.

Many friends not only in Oneonta but throughout all this section of the state will learn with deepest regret of the death of William A. Polley, which, as was briefly noted in The Star of yesterday, occurred at half past one o'clock Monday morning. Mr. Polley had been in failing health for several years, but his critical illness was of only about three days' duration. Death was caused by pericarditis.

The funeral services will be held at his late home, 54 Maple street, at 1:30 p. m. on Wednesday. Rev. Dr. James C. Russell of the First Presbyterian church will officiate and burial will be in the family plot in the Davenport cemetery.

Mr. Polley was born on Rose's Brook in the county of Delaware on Nov. 9, 1866, and was a son of Rodman L. and Esther (Spicer) Polley. His early life was spent at Rose's Brook, where he was a farmer. He was about 26 years of age when he came to Davenport, and from that time, save for brief intervals of other employment, he was a commercial salesman, and a member of the widely-known cigar manufacturing firm of Hummel & Co., of Schenectady, and afterwards of Binghamton. He retired from the business about eight years ago, having previously, in 1905, moved to Oneonta, which thereafter was his home. Prior to this time he had at intervals resided at Schenectady, Oswego, Binghamton and Seneca lake. His winters for several years had been spent in Florida, where he had a residence at St. Petersburg; and from that city he returned on April 10, last, to Oneonta. From that time his decline had been noticeably rapid.

The deceased was a regular attendant on the services of the First Presbyterian church. He was a member also of the Otego Masonic lodge, of the Albany chapter of the Order of the Shrine at Binghamton, and of the organization he had been a director of the Citizens' National bank of this city. He was a man of upright character, of sterling integrity, of fine business qualifications but most of all one devoted to his family and his home associations. Wherever known he was respected, and wherever he made an acquaintance he made a friend.

The immediate members of his family, to whom in their loss there will be general sympathy extended, are his wife, who was Miss R. Addie Shellman, to whom he was married at Davenport, Sept. 28, 1885, and twin sons, Edward R. Polley, a civil engineer now engaged in important construction work at Cartagena, Republic of Columbia, South America; and Arthur L. Polley, a special agent in the employ of the Hartford Fire Insurance company, with headquarters at Albany.

SLUGS IN NICKEL-SLOTS NOW TO RING BELL AND CALL COP

By NEA Service.

New York, April 19. — Nickel slot-machine tester does it, he claims. As nursing natives of New York who use slugs to operate fair turntables have a shock coming to them.

Samuel Epstein, California inventor, has arrived with an invention that he says will take the petty larceny out of subway riding.

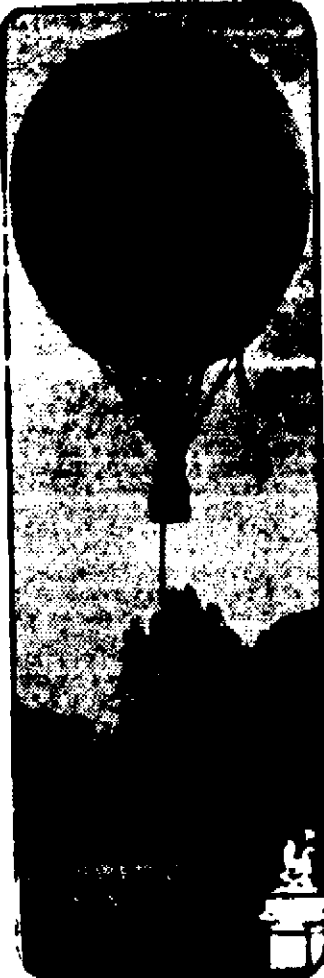

Conductor's train dropped in turntable slots in New York subway and elevated stations total $904 a day. Guards can't stop the slug-borne and fare-dodgers. It is estimated that millions of slugs are used, but while a few can be caught, there weren't enough eagle-eyed guards to watch

The magnifying glasses and money go through for free riders.

"You've got to catch the slug-borne while he's still in the game and he's not likely to be the slug," says Epstein, the inventor.
